

Clinical Research Fellow in Obsessive Compulsive and Related Disorders

Description of the fellowship opportunity:

The learning objectives of the Fellowship is to provide excellent experience in clinical psychiatry focused on obsessive compulsive and related disorders and anxiety disorders, as well as clinical neuroscience research experience in obsessive-compulsive and related disorders and eating disorders. The Clinical Fellow will develop skills pertinent to the clinical assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of adults with obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD), obsessive-compulsive related disorders (in particular, body dysmorphic disorder), tic disorders, and anxiety disorders by conducting structured interviews, clinical ratings, and clinical study visits. As well, the Clinical Fellow will gain experience and develop skills in clinical neuroscience research. This can include research diagnostic evaluations and psychometrics, functional (fMRI and EEG) and structural (diffusion-weighted imaging and morphological analyses) neuroimaging; advanced multivariate, multimodal, and computational analytic approaches; and the development and testing of novel digital tools to measure body image. This Fellowship will provide opportunities to work in multidisciplinary clinical and research teams. The Fellow will have opportunities for scientific discovery, analyses, presentation, manuscript publication, and learning grant-writing skills.

This opportunity duration is for 2 years. This is a clinical position with research duties. Clinical duties will occur at 100 Stokes St. and research duties will occur at 250 College St at approximately 50% clinical and 50% research duties as assigned.

Training start date:

Fellowship training should start on July 1 annually if possible, to align with the new academic year. However, alternative start dates may be negotiated in consultation with the fellowship supervisor (see below) & Psychiatry Fellowship Program (psych.fellows@utoronto.ca).
